

SUFFERING EYES.
with the progress of modern scientific medicine, the treatment of eye diseases has become a science. But suffering eyes will continue to be a nuisance if people will not avail themselves of these precious discoveries. The eye is one of the most delicate of organs and will require your attention and relief, not from pain.

TO-DAY'S CABLES.

(Reader's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDONDERRY SITUATION EASIER.
LONDON, June 24.
It is officially stated that the Londonderry situation is easier. There was very little firing after midnight. At 8 o'clock this evening a man was shot dead in Budge Street. Troops taking food to the gunworks were heavily fired on. They replied with machine guns. The military stopped a Roman Catholic clergyman and three civilians and found several hundred rounds of ammunition on the clergyman, who was provisionally released. Later a boy was shot dead in the grounds of an orphanage. All was quiet this afternoon. Shops are reopening and people are beginning to circulate. The military have begun to remove sandbags.

ULSTER OFFERS TO ASSIST GOVERNMENT.
LONDON, June 25.
Derry was comparatively quiet last night, although there was sniping to which the troops replied.
The Committee of the Ulster Unionist Council has passed a resolution calling on the Government to protect the lives and property of loyal inhabitants in Ulster or to utilise the services of loyalists to preserve law and order.
Numerous dismissals of railwaymen are reported from the south.

BANKS REOPEN.
LONDON, June 25.
Derry spent a very quiet night. The banks reopen to-day. Gas supplies have not been available for a week.

OFFICIAL LIST OF CASUALTIES.
An official statement gives the casualties at Londonderry as follows: On Saturday 5 killed 10 wounded; on Monday 2 killed and 4 wounded; on Tuesday 3 killed and 1 wounded; on Wednesday 3 killed and 14 wounded; and on Thursday 4 killed. The totals are 17 killed and 29 wounded.

RAILWAY DEADLOCK SPREADING.
LONDON, June 24.
The railway deadlock in Ireland is spreading. No trains have arrived from Limerick to-day. The police, whom the railwaymen refuse to move, remain in the trains. Many lines are blocked and large parts of the south-west of Ireland are isolated. The Cork-Dublin mail train was held up by signal at Blarney Station yesterday evening while an armed band seized and carried off two guards to an unknown destination. Seven soldiers were overpowered in the streets of Ennis by a band of men and their arms, ammunition, and helmets were carried off.

NEW GERMAN CABINET.
BERLIN, June 25.
It is officially stated that the new cabinet is as follows: Chancellor, Fehrenbach; Vice-Chancellor, Heinze; Foreign, Dr. Simons; Finance, Wirth; and Defence, Gessler.

FRENCH FOREIGN AFFAIRS.
NO RELATIONS WITH SOVIET UNTIL—
PARIS, June 25.
In the Chamber of Deputies, in the course of the debate on foreign affairs, M. Millerand denied any change in the Government's policy in Syria, but said that action must be proportionate to the available means.
France was not entering into political relations with the Soviet until the latter becomes a real Government; until the Soviet understands that it cannot appear to converse with another government and simultaneously send a message to British workmen inciting revolution against that Government; until the Soviet accepts responsibility for the international obligations of the preceding Russian Governments.

EMPIRE AND THE LEAGUE.
SMUTS FAVOURS CONFERENCE SYSTEM.
CAPETOWN, June 25.
In the Assembly, speaking in support of the League of Nations, General Smuts, dealing with the position of the British Empire, hoped that the constitutional conference, if held in 1921, would frame a scheme solving the problem of how to conduct the affairs of the Empire on a common basis when we would no longer have one great power speaking for the whole but six independent, equal, and free members of a great league. With regard to the question of how it would be possible for the Empire to speak with one voice General Smuts declared that no resolutions should be taken without the unanimous consent of all the members of the Empire. He would never agree to the opinion of South Africa being coerced by the majority vote of the rest of the Empire and he was sure that the other Dominions would take up a similar position. Not only the Dominions, but also the Imperial Government should take up a common ground that no resolution binding any part of the Empire could be taken without its free consent, and the only way to give effect to this view would be the adoption of the conference system.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.
TO ALLOW WOMEN TO VOTE.
KNOXVILLE, June 25.
Governor Roberts has announced his compliance with the request of President Wilson that he should call a special session of the Tennessee Legislature in order to attempt to ratify the women-suffrage amendment to the constitution in time to permit women to vote at the presidential election. Ratification by one more of the States will make the amendment effective.

SENATORS SYMPATHY FOR IRELAND.
KANSAS CITY, June 25.
Frank P. Walsh, ex-chairman of the Industrial Relations Commission, has published a copy of a letter alleged to have been written by Senator Harding expressing sympathy with the movement for independence in Ireland. Senator Harding's secretary has declared that the letter is undoubtedly authentic but there is no copy in Senator Harding's office.

SITUATION IN THE NEAR EAST.

LONDON, June 24th.
The Daily Mail says that in consequence of the serious view taken by the military authorities of the situation in the Middle and Near East, necessitating an increase of 15,000 or 20,000 in the Army Reserve, the War Office will immediately appeal to discharged soldiers to enlist in the Reserve.

GREEK OFFENSIVE AGAINST TURKS.

PARIS, June 24th.
A message from Smyrna states that the Hellenic offensive against the Turkish Nationalists has begun. The Nationalists were compelled to concentrate in the neighbourhood of Akhisar and were driven back in disorder. Akhisar was occupied by the Greeks who continue to advance northwards.

LONDON, June 25th.
A Greek official statement from Smyrna states that the Greek Army has surrounded a Turkish Army Corps at Philadelphia and taken 8,000 prisoners.

FLAX PROBLEM.

LONDON, June 24th.
The report of the Board of Trade Empire Flax-growing Committee on flax substitutes concludes that none of the substitutes such as jute, ramie, and hemp can satisfactorily replace flax in the manufacture of fine linens, damasks and similar articles, though probably furnishing investigation will enable greater utilisation of substitutes. The solution of present difficulties of manufacturers must be sought by extending flax-growing.

POLISH OFFENSIVE.

LONDON, June 24th.
A Polish review of the situation states that after regrouping the Poles remain in possession of the Kiev-Odessa Railway. Stubborn fighting is proceeding forty miles to the north and west of Kiev. The Poles and the Ukrainians still occupy Podolia and Volhynia, while northwards the old front line on the Dvina and Beresina has been completely re-established.

PARKE BEATEN.

LONDON, June 24th.
At Wimbledon, W. T. Tilden (America) beat J. C. Parke by 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. It was one of the most magnificent performances ever seen at the historic centre-court. Tilden showed better form than latter-son last year.
Kingscott beat Arthur Lowe by 6-6, 6-4, 6-0.
Jeamiah beat Ritchie by 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

The British Davis Cup team has been selected and will consist of Parke, Boper Barrett, Kingscott, Mavrogordatt.

THE DUVEEN ESTATE.

NEW YORK, June 24th.
Henry Duveen's estate has been returned at $3,500,000.

CHARGE AGAINST TAMMANY LEADER.

NEW YORK, June 24th.
The Tammany leader Murphy has been indicted on a charge of coercing a merchant Hartog to settle a claim of $10,000,000 damages against Murphy for withdrawing support from Hartog's company.

SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES.

NEW HAVEN, June 24th.
Yale has conferred the Doctorship of Laws on Sir Auckland Geddes.

BOYCOTT AGAINST HUNGARY.

LONDON, June 24th.
A boycott against Hungary, proclaimed by the International Trade Union Conference at Amsterdam owing to the White Terror in Hungary, has led to the stoppage of railway, postal and telegraphic communications between Austria and Hungary. The non-Social Democrat railwaymen in Austria are opposing the strike, and have succeeded in getting a train through. Consequently, Vienna railwaymen struck completely upholding Austrian goods traffic. Meanwhile, Hungary is retreating by withholding supplies from Austria.

GERMANY AND LEAGUE.

LONDON, June 24th.
In the House of Commons, replying to Mr. Newbould, Mr. Lloyd-George said that Germany will be invited to become a member of the League of Nations when it showed an earnest desire to carry out her obligations under the Peace Treaty. (Cheers). He felt very strongly that Germany was not making an effort in regard to disarmament.

FATE OF EX-KAISER.

LONDON, June 24th.
In the House of Commons, replying to Capt. J. Tudor-Boss, Mr. Lloyd-George said that no further steps have been taken in regard to the extradition of the ex-Kaiser, because the Netherlands Government refused to hand him over.
"Capt. Wedgwood Benn": "Then this is the fate of the talk of hanging the Kaiser?"
Mr. Lloyd-George replied: "I am afraid that your friend is not quite satisfied." (Laughter.)

HOW TO AVOID INFANTILE AILMENTS.
In these days of disease prevalent in the season, it is the most dangerous to infants and so Great Care must be

MAYFLOWER TERCENTENARY.

ATLANTIC PASSAGE 300
YEARS AGO.

Thou, too, sail on, oh ship of State!

Sail on, oh, Mayflower, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future
years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate.
In spite of rock and tempest's roar,
In spite of false lights on the shore, Sail on, nor fear to breast the sea,
Our hearts, our hopes, are all
"with thee."
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayer,
Our tears,
Our faith triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all with thee, are all with thee.

These are Longfellow's lines,
written at the time of the Civil War, states a writer in a home paper, and I have substituted the word "Mayflower" for the word "Union".
When the late Mr. Chamberlain, in the course of his inspired—though wrongly inspired—crusade against Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Bill, was being daily taunted with the exclu-siveness of his literary quotations from Dickens, he thrilled the nation, including me, a hostile admirer, by perorating in this sublime adjuration.
A REMINISCENCE OF CHAMBERLAIN.

That was more than a quarter of a century ago, and it is with a reminiscence of Chamberlain rather than of Longfellow that I quote the lines to-day, and apply them to a smaller and bigger ship than either of these great men had in mind. One-third of the whole population of the United States are descended from the early Puritans of New England, a fact which needs no eloquent embellishment.

The five score of men, women and children who sailed in the Mayflower 300 years ago this year, were natives of Yorkshire and Nottinghamshire, and before they abandoned Europe they had given Holland a trial, and found that overcrowded country even more ungodly than England.

After a day of humiliation they sailed from Delfhaven on July 22, 1620, their friends of the Independent congregation there speeding them with a volley of small shot. On August 5 their two ships, the Speedwell, 60 tons (Captain Reynolds), and the Mayflower, 180 tons (Captain Jones), carried them out of Southampton harbour to cross the Atlantic. The Speedwell, however, sprang a leak, and eight days were lost at Dartmouth repairing. Starting again, the Pilgrims had not got more than 100 leagues beyond Land's End when the Speedwell was once more found to be leaking, and both vessels put into Plymouth, where the Speedwell was dismissed from the enterprise, a number of passengers having to be left behind in consequence and the Mayflower, uncomfortably crowded.

It was now September 6, and the Pilgrims had already suffered seven weeks of discouraging omens. But they were made of stern stuff.

AN EVENTFUL VOYAGE.
Fair winds at first were later succeeded by contrary gales and fierce storms. The upper works were "shrewdly shaken," and the ship became very leaky. One of the main beams, amidsthips was "bowed and cracked," but a passenger had thoughtfully provided himself with "a large iron screw," by which the beam was securely fastened. "Governor William Bradford, a native of Austerfield, Yorkshire, one of the brave little band, has left a record of the incidents of the voyage. During a storm "John Howland, a stout young man, was, by a heeling of the ship, thrown into the sea, but, catching by the halliards, which hung overboard, he kept his hold, and was saved. A profane and proud young seaman, stout and able of body, who had despised the poor people in their sickness, telling them he hoped to help cast them overboard before they came to their journey's end, and to make merry with what they had,
was smitten with a grievous disease,
of which he died in a desperate manner, and was himself the first thrown overboard, to the astonishment of all his fellows."

Roar, unpolitic, profane one!
Perhaps he had only intended to be jocular, in his rough, 17th-century seamanlike way. There was one birth on the ship, of a son, in the family of Stephen Hopkins, who was christened Oceanus, and died soon after the voyage was over. The miserable passengers were closely stowed, and were nearly always wet either with the sea, water, or of rain. They came to the coast of New England two months after they had sailed from Plymouth, and landing, "they fell on their knees and blessed the God of heaven who had brought them over the vast and furious ocean and delivered them from all the perils and miseries thereof, again to set their feet on the firm and stable earth, their proper element."

HARDSHIP AND MOURNING.
The month was November, and poorly prepared as they were, they described their first winter in Massachusetts in such terms as show violent, cruel and fierce. "What could they see but a hideous and desolate wilderness, full of wild beasts and wild men?" They built their houses on the western side of Cape Cod on a site which the redoubtable John Smith had already explored and named Plymouth. Forty four of their number—almost one-half died in the first four months, a record of unspeakeable hardship and mourning.

Under the fiercer columns of Virginia, they did not use, either black or white, and though they, or perhaps more accurately the late Puritans, were persecutors in the name of religion, their criminal code was more human than any at the time in the world, their government was almost purely democratic, and they had a passion for education.

In that stern community, too, there was a place for the touching romance of Miles Standish, the Puritan maiden, Priscilla, and her competing lover, John Alden.

THE PIPE-SUCKING
ENGLISHMAN.

SIR R. BADEN-POWELL'S
PLEA
"I don't know if cigarette smoking has done it, but the old pipe-sucking Englishman whom nothing could disturb has been upset and is disappearing," exclaimed Sir Robert Baden-Powell in an address to the inaugural meeting of the London University College Scouting Association.

"We have got rather a southern or Italian spirit into us," he continued,
"which is not quite so stable, though it may be more clever and full of wit, as that of the old stolid Englishman, and it is essential that some of the stolidity should be regained."

GERMS RENDERED HARMLESS.

The Modern Method of Fighting
Malaria.

Every day many germs of disease enter our bodies, but they are made harmless and passed off as a result of the forces of the body are in good condition.
Rich red blood is the power that keeps the human body in order.

When the blood is pure, and good material cannot gain a grip on the system. If malaria is present the only way to permanently expel it from the system is by building up the blood, thus restoring to it the power to throw the malaria parasites out.

It is because they do exactly this—purify the blood, strengthen the blood, make new, rich, red blood at every dose —that Dr. Williams' pink pills are famed as a remedy in all countries where malaria exists.

Dr. Williams' pink pills build up the blood, enable it to absorb more oxygen, the agent which burns up the body poisons. In this way they are not only a tonic but a specific for the best of diseases that comes as a result of thin blood, and that can get a foothold only when the tone of the body is low.

SCARBOROUGH LABOUR CONFERENCE.

LONDON, June 23rd.
At the Scarborough Labour Conference,
Mr. Tom Shaw, M.P., moved a lengthy resolution condemning the Peace Treaty as being destructive instead of constructive and demanding the revision, also the recognition of the Russian-Soviet and arrestation of chaos in Central Europe.

LONDON, June 23rd.
The miners' delegates attending the Labour Conference at Scarborough considered the Government's statistics relating to the increase of the per ton in the retail price of coal. They challenged the accuracy of the Government's figures and declared that the increase was not justifiable. They decided to recommend the impending Miners' Conference to demand a big share of the increase. Probably, the demand will be 5s. per week.

LONDON, June 23rd.
A Socialist amendment to a resolution adopted by the Conference, demanding an immediate general strike with a view to ending the open and covert participation of the British Government in attacks on the Soviet Republic, was overwhelmingly defeated on a card vote.

LONDON, June 23rd.
The Labour Conference declared that a large majority of the Irish people were entitled to decide for themselves the form of government they desired.

An amendment in favour of giving Ireland Home Rule within the Empire was defeated.

The Irish resolution declares that the time has past for half-measures and demands that the Government immediately provide an elected Constituent Assembly for All Ireland by proportional representation.

LONDON, June 23rd.
The Labour Conference has passed a resolution urging the full recognition of the rights of Egyptians to independent and responsible Government and the limitation of British action in Egypt to that which a responsible Nationalist Government freely consented.

ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE.

LONDON, June 23rd.
In the House of Commons, replying to Commander C. Bellairs, Mr. Lloyd George said that the question of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance was being considered. The Government was not aware of the feeling that the Alliance should not be renewed until the Government knew the views of the new Government which would come into power in the United States in March. The Government was not in a position to make a public statement at present. It was not decided whether to give notice in July of the termination of the agreement, or to allow it to continue for another year.

Sir Harry Brittain: Will the views of China be taken into account?
Mr. Lloyd George replied that all relevant views will be taken into account.

NO CONSCRIPTION.

PARIS, June 24th.
The Journal states that the Note presented to the German delegation yesterday recalls that the German army must be reduced to 100,000 before July 10th, and the Security Police abolished, but it allows an increase in the local police from 70,000 to 150,000.

A second Note has been drawn up by Marshal Poch and Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson which demands legislation abolishing conscription in Germany.

LONDON, June 24th.
It is announced that Baron D'Abernon has been appointed British Ambassador to Berlin.

M. Charles Laurant is the new French Ambassador and Signor Di Marcina the Italian Ambassador to Berlin.

COUNTY CRICKET.

LONDON, June 24th.
Kent beat Worcester by an innings and 154 runs.
Yorks beat Leicestershire by an innings and 125 runs. Essex took 4 wickets for 10 runs and Waddington 7 for 22.
Middlesex beat Somerset by ten wickets.

TO COMMEMORATE VERDUN.

PARIS, June 24th.
A Havas message states that the French Minister for War, accompanied by Marshal Pétain and M. Poincaré (France's War President) yesterday laid the first stone of the monument to be erected to soldiers who fell in the Battles of Verdun on the outskirts of the city, made famous for ever by the series of fierce battles which took place beneath its walls.
After the stone-laying, in the afternoon,
the War Minister delivered a striking speech in which he said that no enemy would ever again dare to try to pass Verdun, for fear that the heroes who fell there, from 1914 to 1918, should rise again from their tombs to repulse him.

UNREST IN IRELAND.

LONDON, June 24th.
In the House of Commons, replying to a question in regard to Londonderry, Mr.
Denih Henry said that there was desolatory travelling in the night, mainly from the housetops. Wounded civilians were conveyed in ambulances by troops who were fired on.
The troops replied. Results are not known.
The city was quiet this morning.

Steps have been taken to secure the full co-operation between the civil and military authorities, and curfew regulations have been applied to the city. Millions have been applied to the city. Millions have been applied to the city. Millions have been applied to the city.

It is officially stated that the Derry City Magistrates have again urgently telegraphed to the Chief Secretary expressing alarm at the Government inaction, and stating that they consider the situation desperate and fear that it will become worse. They add that the food supply is running out and gas is almost exhausted.

New York, June 24th.
Addressing a crowded meeting of the Irish Progressive League, Mr. McCartan
the so-called Irish Ambassador, declared that Cobain was the keystone of a conspiracy to force de Vaeira out of the country. A priest declared that Irish American politicians had sold the Irish cause for the best price they could get.
The audience booed Cobain.

At Londonderry, five Sinn Féinners were killed during the machine-gunning covering the withdrawal of Protestant residents from the danger zone. A thousand fresh troops are arriving on a destroyer which is already anchored in the river.

The Civil Guard, which is being commanded by a priest, is protecting the distillery. Sniping subsided in the evening.

Today's wounded include a father, son, and daughter, all of whom were shot together.

Several railwaymen at Limerick were suspended, following their refusal to drive a train in which there were a number of police.

LONDON, June 23rd.
Correspondents from Londonderry state that the battle continued throughout the night and morning, the military remaining onlookers. The principal scene was Bishop Street, where sniping was incessant.

LONDON, June 24th.
Londonderry was quiet this morning, after yesterday's machine-gunning. Only a few rifle shots were heard. Two snipers were arrested. It is believed the city has seen the worst of the rioting.

INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING CONFERENCE.

GENOA, June 24th.
The International Shipping Conference Commission has adopted, by 17 votes to 13, the proposal for a 45-hour week. The British Government Shipping Board representatives opposed it, and issued a statement welcoming the principle as a standard to be aimed at, but saying they were unable to agree to an immediate application of the principle on British ships.

DIVORCE REFORM.

LONDON, June 22nd.
In the House of Lords, after a protest
by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Buckmaster's Divorce Bill passed its third reading by 154 votes to 107, extending the grounds of divorce to habitual drunkenness, insanity and desertion for three years. The Bill now goes to the House of Commons.

THE "BRUSSELS" WILL NOT BE SOLD.

LONDON, June 22nd.
The sale of Capt. Fryatt's ship, the "Brussels," has been cancelled by the Ministry of Shipping, it is understood, in deference to sentiment in favour of the preservation of the ship.

WIRELESS STRIKE.

LONDON, June 23rd.
The Seafarers' Joint Council at Liverpool recommended the wireless workers to return to work pending a joint discussion.

SENATOR HARDING.

WASHINGTON, June 23rd.
Senator Harding informed a deputation of female suffragists that he could not force any State to hasten the adoption of the suffrage amendment. The deputation was bitterly disappointed.

"TRUTH, JUSTICE, PUBLIC SERVICE"

HONGKONG, MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1920.

NINE O'CLOCK.

Hongkong June mornings are not jejeune. Even at nine, when men go to work, it feels good to be alive. It is already hot, but little breezes flutter the flags on the tall buildings, and make the bushy tops of the ficus branches sway languidly. Catpaws fret the shiny surface of the harbour, and the sampan women kill straggly chickens and prepare them for food. The feathers drift away from the bloody rib of the sampan.

Already the clothes mending man has set out her little shelf of cigarettes and matches, and her basket of patches, and a half naked child reclines on the pavement in the shade, while she puts his doublet right. She is thin and yellow, with hollow eyes, and is often ill. At such times, a friend takes her place.

Business girls with little despatch cases and clothes that look as if a shower of rain would melt them off like thin blotting paper ride in on the tops of trams. We always want to let them go down the awkward ladder, though the tram does not stop long, and we have to jump off when it is going fast.

In the little Japanese shops little Japanese men in undress are redressing their windows. One never sees any customers, and one wonders idly how they pay. On the stone balustrade of a barrack verandah two soldiers sit in grey shirts and khaki trousers, with bare feet swinging over the street. It must be nice after breakfast to swing bare feet like that, and smoke, and see the people pass; but war is a horrid trade.

At a street corner one gets a glimpse of the hills, looking very green and fresh after the rains, and very near, like the mountain tops of Switzerland just before it rains. It would be better to go to the hills than to the office; but, of course.

Down the hill from the Peak, swinging in four-coolie chairs, come the tappers, smoking cigars. It is better to be ready when they arrive, with all the big ledgers open, and a show of preparedness, if not of work. But the stenographer does not care. She stops at a store window and pats her hair and it is clear she is not looking at the things in the window but at her own reflection. As she turns away she looks over her shoulder. She is rather pretty, but has not a healthy colour.

The chair and ricksha coolies on the stands are laughing, though what they've got to laugh about is hard to say. They have a hard day in front of them. The shiny white tops of the chairs, and the blue faces of the coolies, with the red crowns, give the effect of a floral pattern. Their blue coats help. So on foot up the hill by the flower market, where the flower sellers are prostituting beautiful blooms into horribly stiff wreaths and crosses, to the stupid office, to say stupid things about stupid affairs, in which one is not really interested; but it means bread and the grease they call butter, a little inferior wine, shoes, and once in a while the thrilling adventure of a book. So day follows day, and what the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina on the subject of liquid refreshments applies with poignant force to pay days.

TO THEM THAT SENT BEER.

The jolly brown beer came foaming Over the lip of the jug
And the thoughts of my heart were homing
As I lifted up the mug.
So here is how, says I to myself,
And here's to the Sergeant's mess.

May they never want for the needful pelf
Nor their shadows ever grow less.

For British beer is drink for a man
And they are men that sent it To brusk up Adversar-i-an (That's how they must have meant it).

To—well—with eunuchs, parrots, and tripe,
Let's drink to the good old days,
And with our good strong beer and pipe,
Hang on to old English ways.

With a hip-hip-hip, and a kindly thought,
With good straight talk and a streak of fun,
Loving each other as we jolly well ought,
Let's live and laugh till the race be run.

—ADVERSARIUS.

ADVERSARIA.

How much do Indian watchmen get a month? GREASE. Whatever it is, it seems to be money wasted.

One would think our tradesmen, especially those carrying stocks of precious and easily transportable goods, would have come to some such decision by this time. For some time now, it has been a common addendum of the newspaper reports of robberies, that the Indian watchman on the premises heard nothing and saw nothing. European watchmen would cost more, but they would at least earn the money. The loatable stores are mostly collected within the space of a few blocks, in and about the centre of the city. Their proprietors should now get together and pool a fund to employ three or four European ex-service men as watchmen, to move from shop to shop throughout the night. Perhaps the insurance companies would contribute.

Speaking of an eminent NASTY, editor and demagogue at Home, a Government official said in company last evening that he was the "cleverest scoundrel" he knew. Pointing to the Adversarius, a bystander said maliciously, "Present company excepted?" The Government official said: "No. The Adversarius isn't as clever as he is." Whereupon Adversarius had to be restrained, while the official made his escape.

SLAVERY.

It is practically certain that John Ward's recollection of a conversation at a Government House lunch is at fault. John never was good at recalling such past events in correct detail. The mandarin who was governor of Canton was very unlikely, at such a party to make such an unpleasant comparison as John Ward attributes to him, namely, that the only place where slavery is allowed throughout China is Hongkong. Even if he did drop such a brick, it isn't true. However, if it be admitted that there is any form of slavery in Hongkong, and if any person, legal or lay, pretends that this is because we agreed to observe Chinese customs, you may safely denounce them as humbugs. Because there are many other matters in which we have quite cheerfully broken that pledge. If there is slavery here, of an objectionable sort, let it be admitted that it is left alone (if such be the case) on grounds of expediency. However, as has been recently pointed out by quite good and respectable men, there is no "slavery" here in the strict meaning of the term. Recent Home papers tell of an English farmer who took in a young girl to work. For nearly twenty years she did the general work of the house, receiving only her food, lodging, and occasionally the cast-off clothing of her mistress. Somehow she discovered that she was being defrauded, and sued her master for £100, arrears of wages. An English judge non-suited her, holding that there was no contract for a wage. Some people would describe that young woman as a "slave." Chinese domestic "slaves" are on a similar basis.

A Shanghaiander HOW DO YOU "fed up" and READ THIS? "swearing" that Londoners are all crazily devoted to profiteering and pleasure seems to have been trying to buy a house in London. He writes: "Landlords will only sell at three to five times pre-war prices, with occupation. Without occupation, the prices are normal, but cost of repairs considerable." How do you read that? It suggests to us that the London landlords are remarkably decent birds, protecting their tenants against a moneyed outsider, trying to cheat them. It seems to say that if he will leave the tenant in possession, the landlord will sell for a normal figure; if he turns the tenant out, he must pay three to five times more. That is extraordinary; but what other can it mean?

One great advantage of living in a seaport town is the opportunity it offers of meeting old friends passing through. Nowadays Hongkong is like Ludgate: if you stand long enough at the jetty, you will meet everybody you know in the world. With us just now is that veteran journalist, W. Makepeace, of the Singapore Free Press, homing via Canada. He heard the call of the East as long ago as '84, and has so established himself in British Malaya that when any old timer hears Singapore mentioned, he instantly asks, "How's Makepeace?" He brings the interesting news that the Bishop of Singapore is a regular and interested student of Adversaria. Sometimes we suspect that the Hongkong people do not fully realize how privileged they are.

That's how an American paper insists on spelling it; and we really cannot blame our contemporary. Here it is rent: D'Annunzio at Fiume FREEDOM. Still bothers the spotlight man. Sooner than evacuate he says he will blow himself up. The Chicago Tribune pointedly remarks that all he needs to do that is a pin.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Owing to bad weather there was no flying at Repulse Bay yesterday afternoon.

An advertisement in an English newspaper reads: "Motor cycle for sale; climbs like wages and goes as fast."

It is reported, the N. C. Daily News says, that as a result of the heavy rains we have been having during the past few weeks, 50 per cent. of the rice crops have been badly damaged. It seems that the grain was recently reaped but got soaked and rotted. If there is more rain, not much grain will be left.

More cases of suspected cholera are reported in Kobe, and the cause is again attributed to the use of sea water. In order to prevent this practice, it is said the authorities are about to pour kerosene oil on the sea. If this is well done, remarks the Kobe Herald a Havana cigar or cigarette end ought to produce a blaze equal to the gasoline conflagration the other day.

The British naval authorities have now decided to tackle the question of the Upper Yangtze traffic and its interference by robber-ships. All available river craft has passed Hankow and a regular fleet has gone to the various parts on the Upper Yangtze. It is now hoped that travelling up and down the Yangtze river will soon become safe and normal again.

Information has reached Shanghai from Hankow, in a message dated June 13 reporting the complete looting of the reformed Church at Yochow and the murder of the Rev. Mr. Reimer. Eight foreigners including six Americans, one German and one Englishman sought refuge on board the Japanese gunboat "Saga," which fortunately called at Yochow, and took them to Hankow. Thirteen girl students were also refugees on the same vessel.

With the collapse in the business and financial world, and the closing up of industrial establishments that sprang up like mushrooms during the war boom, the unemployment in Japan is on the increase. The latest investigations in this direction show that during May, 563 factories announced that they would have to discharge their workmen, and, in consequence of this, workers in 12 factories immediately went on strike. This only made their case worse, for a lockout was declared, and the workmen anticipated their discharge by a few weeks.

A report from Kobe states that a trunk containing 400 bombs was found in a hotel in Kobe. According to the report, about two weeks ago a man about 30 years old stopped at the Tokitatsu Hotel in Kobe and left a large trunk in care of the manager. As the man failed to return, the trunk was opened in the presence of the police authorities and it was found to be full of bombs. The owner of the trunk has been arrested and it is reported that circumstantial evidence leads to the conclusion that the trunk was smuggled in from Vladivostok. The authorities are investigating the case.

"The Wollwra Crime" is the leading article in Shipping and Engineering where the events leading up to the murder of the third officer of the "Wollwra" on May 10 coupled with the sentence imposed on the Chinese cook are reviewed. It is remarked that the sentence of ten years imposed on the cook has caused some rather adverse feeling, it being thought by some that the cook had not been meted out his just deserts. With regard to this, the article points out, it must be remembered that although the cook was charged with murder, the Court brought in a verdict of manslaughter, and the maximum penalty of ten years was the period of the cook's sentence.

To-day's return of notifiable disease records one fatal Chinese case of plague.

A Chinese earth coolie was removed to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries to the leg received from being knocked down by a motor car in Pokfulam Road.

The members of the Garrison Sergeants' Mess held a very enjoyable whist drive on Friday evening. The successful players were—Ladies: Mrs. Booth 1, Miss Conroy 2, Mrs. Cheesley 3, and Booby, Mrs. Massey. Gentlemen: Sergt. Long, R.A.S.C. 1, C.P.O. Harding 2, Master Burden 3, and Booby, Mr. Wilkins.

Reports of the discovery of gold in North-eastern Siberia have reached Nome and many boats are awaiting the opening of navigation in readiness to carry "stampedeers" to the new fields. Ice is reported broken five miles out in Bering Strait from Nome and the schooner "Polar Bear" has been hauled out a considerable distance. Holes are being cut in the ice for her launching so that she may get an early start for Siberia.

A Chinese girl was knocked down by motor car No. 263 in Queen's Road Central yesterday, receiving injuries which necessitated her removal to the Government Civil Hospital. It is stated that in attempting to avoid a passing ricksha, the chauffeur swerved the car. Before he had time to realise the danger and apply the brake, it is said his car collided with the girl who was walking near the drain. The chauffeur drove the girl to the hospital.

An ingenious statistician has calculated that it takes 7,000 lb. of pure gold each year to make the wedding rings for English brides, comments "Globetrotter" in the Globe. It is interesting to take the calculations, a step further. Taking the average weight of a wedding ring at 1 oz. and the number of married women in the British Isles at 10,000,000, the aggregate weight of gold locked up in this unproductive form is roughly 140 tons avoirdupois.

In announcing the death of Mr. C. T. Tonkin, of the Chinese Maritime Customs, at the age of 78 years, the N.C. Daily News remarks that he must have ranked as one of the oldest China hands, and it is understood that he had served in the Customs for something like half a century. In the outdoor staff he had held many important positions in Chefoo and Shanghai, and until four or five years ago he was actively employed. He then retired, and had been in bad health. He is survived by a widow and three children, to whom the deepest sympathy will be extended.

Among the guests at the Grand Hotel, Tokyo on June 11, was Mrs. James Harner Taggart, who went to Japan on the interesting errand of collecting furnishings for several hotels in Hongkong, of which her husband is manager. One of these hotels is the new Repulse Bay Hotel, which is declared to be the finest hotel in the Far East states the Japan Advertiser. The view of the bay from the hotel is, it is said, unsurpassed anywhere in the East. The curious name of this bay aroused the question as to its origin and it was learned that it received its name 75 years ago when the English repulsed Chinese pirates in the bay in a furious battle. Mrs. Taggart expects to be in Japan about a month.

ALLEGED THEFT OF $152.

BAIL FIXED AT $500.

The Chinese clerk of the Government Quarry at Satszen was this morning charged before Mr. N. L. Smith with having obtained the sums of 62 and 80 cents from the P.W.D., by false pretences. He pleaded "not guilty."

It was stated for the prosecution that the defendant made out two false time sheets relating to the sums which represented wages for coolies hired, and sent various people in to collect the money. As a matter of fact no coolie was hired on the date mentioned in the sheets. A serious charge was taken of the case. The Magistrate remanded the case for a week, fixing bail in the sum of $500.

THE FUTURE OF TSINGTAO.

The following memorandum on the future of Tsingtao, which was drawn up by the British Chamber of Commerce at that port and with the general principles of which the Associated British Chambers of Commerce in China are in agreement, was recently forwarded to H.M. Minister by the Association.

MEMORANDUM.

The Tsingtao question has now entered on a phase when some kind of solution must soon be arrived at. The Chinese must choose between negotiating directly with Japan or submitting the whole question to the League of Nations. In the former event the interests of foreign powers would probably be entirely ignored, but in the latter event the League of Nations would probably take into consideration the vested interests acquired by England and other nations in the course of 16 years trading under treaty conditions at Tsingtao. That is to say any solution arrived at would be international in character. Believing that the time is becoming ripe for such a solution the British Chamber of Commerce at Tsingtao have deemed it advisable to place upon record what in their opinion would constitute a fair settlement of the Tsingtao question, namely, a settlement which would preserve intact the sovereign rights of China and at the same time allow every nation to live and trade at Tsingtao on a footing of equality.

I. Japan undertook the reduction of Tsingtao on the express promise that she would return Tsingtao to China. In consequence of that promise China allowed a free passage to the Japanese army, the Powers gave Japan a free hand and she was assisted by British troops. Legally as well as morally therefore England and the other Powers have the right to insist that a reasonable interpretation be given to this promise. That is to say the Powers demand that this promise must not be merely fulfilled on paper and completely nullified in practice.

II. If Tsingtao is to be returned to the sovereignty of China the very first step is to place the harbour and harbour lights, the docks and wharves and the collection of duties under the control of China. If this is not done the promise is absolutely meaningless. It follows that, in view of the vested trading interests referred to above, Tsingtao must be placed on the same footing as other ports in China. The organ for the control of harbour, docks, wharves and collection of customs duties must be the Maritime Customs, and the Maritime Customs must be simply an ordinary branch of the Chinese Customs service. The appointment of the staff must be left to the unfettered discretion of the Inspector General in Peking and if that discretion is exercised in a manner detrimental to the interests of any nation diplomatic representations in Peking afford an easy remedy.

III. If the Leased Territory is returned to the sovereignty of China the present military administration would ipso facto be abolished and the question then arises what form of administration is to take its place. There are various alternatives which may be discussed and considered but the only solution which appears satisfactory and fair to all concerned is the establishment of a municipality with elected councillors and a permanent staff such as exists at Shanghai and other ports, with however this important addition that unlike Shanghai, Chinese residents in Tsingtao, equally with those of other nationalities, shall have the right to vote and sit on the Council. The law administered should be the law of China limited only by the safeguards of extrajurisdictionality so long as such safeguards are maintained in the rest of China.

IV. The railway is a difficult problem capable of several solutions. It is obvious however that it is utterly incompatible with China's sovereignty that the railway should be practically foreign territory, garrisoned by foreign troops and guarded by foreign military police, and that the railway should control the Tsingtao docks and wharf office. The very least that should be demanded is that the docks and wharf office be placed under the control of the Chinese Maritime Customs at Tsingtao, that the foreign troops should be entirely withdrawn and a Chinese police force take the place of the military police, and that, if the railway itself is to be treated as a foreign concession, it should be managed as an economic concession pure and simple. It is suggested, however, that the question of the management and control of the Shantung Railway should not be dealt with as an isolated problem but that it should be settled in conjunction with all other railways in China as part of a comprehensive scheme of unification of railways.

V. Assuming that the Tsingtao question is settled on an international basis as outlined above, the only feasible method of settlement would be to supervise the transfer of sovereignty from Japan to China and have authority to settle the numerous questions of detail which would arise. Such a Commission might be appointed by the League of Nations and might contain representatives of China, Japan, England, America, and France. Many very important questions could be left to the unfettered decision of this Commission. For example when handing over control of the harbour etc. to the Chinese Maritime Customs it might be found desirable to stipulate that the present free port area be maintained as a free port area and in deciding the fate of the railways it would certainly be desirable to ensure a continuance of the freedom from vexatious inland taxation which was secured by Germany. With regard to the Municipal Administration of Tsingtao, the Commission, besides setting the composition and organisation of the Council and its permanent staff, would be faced with the difficulty that ordinary municipal taxation would be insufficient for the proper upkeep of the town. They would have to arrange for a permanent contribution of 20 per cent. of the Customs revenue as arranged in the agreement with Germany in 1905. They would also have to insist that the fiscal lands should be treated as a source of municipal revenue as was the case before the advent of the Japanese military administration. Any further alienation of those lands or any attempt to convert the 10 years leases granted by the Military Administration into freeholds should be prevented.

VI. It is probably that the Commission in the course of its labours will be met by a demand from China for a fuller recognition of her sovereignty than is accorded to her at other places where she comes into contact with foreigners and a demand from Japan for special consideration of the interests which she has built up since 1914. There is no reason why both these demands should not be met in a sympathetic spirit, provided only that the only object which British Merchants have in view—equality of opportunity—is not placed in jeopardy.

VI. To sum up, the policy which is advocated by the British Chamber of Commerce at Tsingtao is that Tsingtao should be returned by Japan to China and that an international Commission be appointed by the League of Nations to safeguard the sovereignty of China and the vested trading interests which should be settled by the Commission are—

1. The Customs should be an ordinary branch of the Chinese Maritime Customs and the staff should be appointed irrespective of nationality by the Inspector General of Customs in Peking.

2. The Customs should control the harbour, harbour lights, wharves, docks and wharf godowns.

3. The leased territory should be administered by a municipal Council elected on a property franchise in respect of which every nationality should be on a footing of equality.

4. All public utilities such as slaughter house, water works etc. should be handed over to the municipality.

5. A contribution of 40 per cent. of the Customs Revenue should be paid to the municipality to facilitate the upkeep of the territory as heretofore.

6. Revenue from fiscal lands should be appropriated by the Municipality and no further alienation etc. of these lands permitted.

7. The railway should be managed on an economic and not a political basis and if possible, its ultimate disposition should be fitted into a general scheme of unification of railways.

8. The railway should be perpetually free of fiscal and other inland taxation.

9. The free port area should be maintained.

KOWLOON BEATS POLICE.

In a lawn bowls league match played on Saturday afternoon, the Kowloon C.C. beat the H.K. Police by two shots.

The scores were—1st Rink—Davidson, Labrum, Richmond and G. Gerrard (skip, K.C.C.), 18; beat Becker, Ogg, A. Clark and J. Clark (skip, H.K.P.), 13.
2nd Rink—Cashman, Robertson, Grimmett and Grant (skip, H.K.P.), 26; beat Elson, Hes, Blackburn and Silkstone (skip, K.C.C.), 19.
3rd Rink—Mackenzie, Purves, Fie and Jack (skip, K.C.C.), 17; beat R.C. Watt, Kent, G. Watt and W.G. Gerrard (skip, H.K.P.), 13.
Total—Kowloon C.C., 54; H.K. Police, 52.

LEAGUE TENNIS.

Civil Service beat the Wigwam team on Saturday, their fourth consecutive win. The Civil Service seem well in the running for the "B" Division championship. They have now to meet K.C.C. "B" and U.S.R.C. "B"—teams which have not been brilliant performers. The scores were—

Wood and Sayer beat Browne and Raitton 7-4; lost to Wheeler and Dreyer 5-6; beat Hicks and Johnston 7-4.
Witchell and Fincher beat Browne and Raitton 6-5; beat Wheeler and Dreyer 6-5; beat Hicks and Johnston 11-0.

Woodman and Woodman lost to Browne and Raitton 5-6; lost to Wheeler and Dreyer 5-6; beat Hicks and Johnston 6-5.

Civil Service thus won by 58 games to 41.

BRITISH SUGAR PRICES.

AMERICAN CONSUMPTION EXCEEDS PRODUCTION.

LONDON, June 24. In the House of Commons, replying to Mr. Seddon, Mr. McCurdy stated that the financial reserves of the sugar supply commission had been reduced in 1918 to approximately £4,000,000, owing to Britain's maintenance of the retail price of sugar below the level of the world's sugar prices. The total production of America, including Porto Rico, the Philippines, and the Sandwich Islands, was estimated not to exceed 1,500,000 tons, whereas the American consumption is over 4,000,000 tons. There is no indication of a sugar corner.

SALT FISH STREET SUIT.

The statement of claim says that the plaintiff, Wong Say San, is the trustee of the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan firm now bankrupt, and the defendant, Yuen Ying Po, is a merchant, of No. 2, Salt Fish St., Hongkong.

On or about February 20, 1918, an indenture of mortgage was executed purporting to be made between the said Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan as mortgagors and the defendant as mortgagee, whereby the mortgagors covenanted, inter alia, to pay on demand to the mortgagee the sum of $15,000 with interest at 1 per cent. per month, and assigned to the mortgagee, firstly, their book debts; secondly, all their share and interest in the funds of the Luen Yick Sha; and, thirdly, their signboard, goodwill and right to the exclusive use of the name Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan and all their estate right, title and interest in the premises assigned.

The said indenture was signed by Chan King Wan and Wong Yee Sang, who purported to execute to as managing partners of the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan for themselves and all others of the partners in the said Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan.

The indenture purported to recite, witness and acknowledge that the sum of $15,000 had been advanced by the mortgagee on the 10th day of February, 1918.

In fact, the defendant had been a member of the Hing Loong Cheung Kee firm whose business was bought by the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan in 1911. At the time of the purchase, the defendant had left on deposit with the purchasers about Tels 8,942.40. Therefore from time to time he drew money from the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan. Subsequently, the defendant made certain advances not exceeding in all $6,500 to the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan and in 1917 he was engaged by the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan as their manager.

At the date the indenture of mortgage was entered into there was due to the defendant, in respect of his original deposit and the advances the sum of $7,130.55.

By the indenture of mortgage, the defendant agreed to advance to the mortgagors the further sum of $20,000. Of the said sum he has advanced Tels 8,735.374 only and of that Tels 1,987.92 (plus Tels 156.6 interest) was used to repay deposits and advances made by the defendant and a further sum of about $1,000 was used to repay deposits made by or through the said Chan King Wan. None of it was used to repay deposits made by or through any other partners.

Subsequently, the defendant advised the firm to go bankrupt and on June 1, 1918, an interim receiving order, and, on June 22, 1918, a receiving order was made on the petition of one Chan Chik Kim Tong, a creditor, and the firm was adjudged bankrupt on July 12, 1918, when the plaintiff was appointed trustee.

After the bankruptcy and during the currency of the interim receiving order the defendant wrongfully and without authority took from the firm Tels 360 and Tels 1,080 (in all $2,000.00).

The execution of the indenture of mortgage was not authorised by the Hing Loong Hip Kee Lan or by any of the partners therein others than the said Chan King Wan. The plaintiff further says the defendant was well aware that the execution was unauthorised as aforesaid.

No notice in writing of the assignment of book debts of the indenture of mortgage was given to the debtors and the said debts were at the commencement of the bankruptcy in the possession, order or disposition of the bankrupt firm in their trade or business with the consent and permission of the defendant, their manager, under such circumstances that they were the reputed assets thereof.

The indenture of mortgage was a fraudulent transfer of the property of the bankrupt firm, or, in the alternative, is void as a fraudulent preference, or, in the further alternative, is void wholly or in part by reason of the facts hereinbefore stated.

The plaintiff claims—

(1) That the indenture of mortgage be set aside and declared void or, alternatively, inoperative in so far as it purported to assign the book debts.

BIG JEWEL ROBBERY.

ULLMANN'S PREMISES ENTERED.

LOSS OF $200,000.

One of the biggest burglary hauls for some time has to be recorded. Some time Saturday night or Sunday morning the premises of Messrs. J. Ullmann & Co., the well known jewellers, of Queen's Road Central, situated at the foot of Wyndham Street, were broken into by a gang of burglars and a large quantity of valuables stolen.

Inspector O'Sullivan, Detective Sergeant Dorling and some Chinese detectives, followed shortly afterwards by Mr. Burdington, A.S.P., Inspector Grant and Sub-Inspector T. Murphy, began an investigation on Sunday evening, when a 'phone alarm was sent in.

At first it was thought, from the appearance of the show-cases, that the burglary had not resulted in much serious loss but a brief examination revealed the fact that two safes situated at the back of the premises, in which were kept a large quantity of diamonds, gold and silver watches etc., had been broken open and the major part of their contents removed. Mr. S. Goldschmidt, the manager of the firm, estimated the loss roughly at $200,000.

According to Mr. Goldschmidt, when he closed the shop as usual on Saturday afternoon everything was intact. It is surmised that the robbers set to work after mid-night on Saturday. An Indian watchman was on duty all night outside the shop.

The burglary was discovered at 6 p.m., yesterday by Mr. Goldschmidt who went to the shop to attend to some urgent business. Mr. Goldschmidt's suspicion was aroused when he tried to open the door and the lock resisted his efforts. He immediately enlisted the assistance of a locksmith and the lock was picked. A steel catch was found to have been inserted into the lock. Convinced that something was amiss, Mr. Goldschmidt, went straight to the nearest safe and found it open. Some diamonds were missing. He at once communicated with the Police by telephone. On the arrival of the Police two other safes were, in the course of investigation, found to have been rifled. It was then that the extent of the loss was realized by Mr. Goldschmidt.

A careful examination of the premises by the Police revealed the fact that the premises were entered through Flower Street. Having gained the top of the staircase, the robbers bored a hole, through a three-inch partition wall. Access to the shop through this hole, which led to the watch-makers' work-room, was easy. Once in the work-room, the robbers tried a door between this room and the front part of the shop. The stout lock resisted their efforts, and after leaving marks on it, they gave up the attempt and set to work to bore another hole in the wall dividing the two rooms.

This done, they crawled through and turned their attention to the safes. They apparently met with little resistance in the case of the first two safes. After ransacking these, they attempted a third, which, from the marks on it, offered stubborn resistance. After going through several drawers, they found a bunch of keys which opened the safe. Several other safes also were subsequently opened with these keys.

To prevent their being taken by surprise, the robbers took the precaution of putting a catch into the front lock. They managed to do this without attracting the attention of the watchman outside. The watchman states that although he was sitting immediately outside the door, he heard nothing to arouse his suspicion.

Judging from the systematic way in which the robbers ransacked the premises, leaving nothing untouched, excepting the show-cases, they must have spent a considerable time in the shop. In view of the fact that bright lights were burning inside the shop and that the watchman could have looked through the peep holes in the wooden shutters over the glass door and show windows, it looks as if he didn't look.

That the robbers escaped by the same way they entered was evident from the presence of the catch in the front door lock. It is probable that they got away early on Sunday morning, either to Macao or to Canton. With a start of many hours—the robbery was not discovered until 6 p.m., on Sunday—the robbers have every chance of evading arrest.

This burglary is the biggest committed in Hongkong for some years, and the method employed, makes it probable that the gang responsible for it was the same which entered the premises of Sheriff Bros., Mohideen & Co., Sennet Freres, Falconer, other stores, and the Post Office.

The Indian watchman, questioned by the Police, was unable to give information, beyond that he was at his post all night and did not hear anything unusual. He has been removed to the Central Police Station and detained pending further investigations.

While Inspector Grant was engaged in examining the front door lock, his attention was attracted by a strange looking Northern Chinese, who was standing by much interested

CORRESPONDENCE.

HAWKERS, POLICEMEN, KESTRELS AND BANANAS.

[To the Editor of the "China Mail."]

Hongkong, June 23, 1920.

Sir,—I do not think that any useful purpose will be served in prolonging this "hawker" argument, so you may consider this my last letter on the subject.

It is impossible for me to reason or argue with people like "Adversarian" and "John Kestrel" because of their habitual and cursed perverseness in trying to distort my view point.

In writing a letter one usually allows for some deductive intelligence on the part of the reader, but apparently this quality is lacking in both my opponents.

For instance both of them assume that because I asked them to remember that both Indian and Chinese police are Asiatics dealing with Asiatics it follows that European police officers acquiesce in whatever they do.

I submit that this assumption is nothing but pure devilishness on their part. It is a mere subterfuge—the sort of thing employed by all persons getting the worst of an argument and whose last hope is to annoy and disconcert their opponent. My obvious meaning was, of course, the conduct of the Asiatic police working on their own initiative. It is impossible for European officers to see or know of every harsh action on the part of their native subordinates; but all complaints on that score are carefully enquired into, and, if proved, there awaits serious punishment for the defaulter.

Again I am misconstrued by "John Kestrel" where he alleges I write disparagingly of China born boys. I did nothing of the sort. What I really said was that if a European were born and reared amongst Chinese he would lose the mental outlook and balance of his race. In other words he would be a Chinaman. That is altogether a different thing to saying that Europeans born in China are mentally different to their parents.

But if "John Kestrel" will have it the other way then I am prepared to state that, speaking generally, China born boys and girls, not educated at Home, are a good deal "Sloppier" than their brothers and sisters reared in Europe, or in European communities. Now then!

But to revert to the hawker question my unalterable opinion on that subject is that both the Police and Magistrates are doing the best they can under circumstances which are fraught with extreme difficulties. Both my opponents are writing without experience and see only the surface of things.

I have long recognised, in common with my brother officers, that it is an impossible task to please all sections of the public, but we cannot see how we are to enhance our popularity by allowing unrestrained hawking, or to combine justice with uncontrolled foolishness.

Laws are made for the benefit of a community, as a whole, and obedience to them is a normal condition.

So, then, "John Kestrel" if you do not care a fig for the law well then—have a banana.

Yours, etc.,

POLICEMAN.

[Here is a good place to stop. This discussion, like many others, is leading nowhere, and before it becomes a merely personal wrangling, let us write our fiat.—finis—E.L.C.M.] in the proceedings. Observing the Inspector looking at him, the Chinese attempted to sneak away, but was immediately taken into custody and removed to the Station along with the Indian.

"There are no clues excepting a chain and a key and it is unlikely that these will yield much that will assist in tracing the robbers.

The property is understood to be covered by insurance.

Note by China Mail sleuth:—

All the reports we have seen say that the burglars got over the wall in Flower Street, first removing the broken glass from the top of it. A glance at this wall shows that no glass has been removed. To the right of this wall, behind the flower stalls, is a big cage of wire netting. Look at it. Where it meets the wall it offers a comfortable ladder to any ordinarily agile man. That's where they went up. By resting a coat on the glass, they could stand on it and reach the upstairs windows—open. No need to remove the broken glass—a noisy proceeding. This much is visible by any passer-by, with a pair of working eyes in his head.

As the result of stock-taking since the burglary, property to the value of some $100,000 has been accounted for as lost. There is every possibility that the total loss will not be far short of the $200,000 mark; the original rough estimate given by Mr. Goldschmidt at the time the burglary was discovered.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE.

THE Management of the "China Mail" desires to inform the public that its tariff for advertisements received on and after this date will be increased by 50 per cent.

This increase is rendered imperative by the constantly growing cost of production, the price of paper alone having advanced by 100 per cent during the past five years.

In order to meet these conditions newspapers and magazines all over the world have been obliged to raise their subscription and advertising rates—in some cases by as much as 100 per cent—and, at the same time, to curtail the size and number of pages. For the present, however, it has been decided, in the interests of the public generally, and of advertisers in particular, to leave the price of the "China Mail" unchanged.

Hongkong, May 17, 1920.

TO SECRETARIES OF CLUBS AND OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

AS from to-day, all preliminary notices of forthcoming meetings, lectures and entertainments, sent for insertion in the news columns of the "China Mail," will be charged for at the rate of $1 each, providing they do not occupy more than four lines. If this space is exceeded they will be placed in the advertising columns at the prevailing rates.

Hongkong, May 17, 1920.

THE WAGES OF HUMANITY.

These old-fashioned ideas, from Mr. C. F. Ryder to the Saturday Review, may serve to revive some old-fashioned thoughts in old-fashioned people.

For the first time in history it is being claimed that a man should not be paid for efficiency—i.e., not by the results of his labour—but for being a human being. The Socialist theory of life, clearly set out in the formula, "from each according to his ability, to each according to his needs," enthrone inefficiency and makes incapacity, instead of a hindrance, a veritable asset to its possessor.

Bolshevism is Socialism carried to its extreme logical conclusion, and therefore it is bound to appeal in a special way to the toiling millions of Asia who live on a shilling a day. The Premier tells us that the best way of fighting Bolshevism is by means of "abundance"—apparently abundance of political promises and paper money—but for the voiceless masses of Asia and Africa, living more cheaply than the cattle in the field, there is no promise of abundance of any sort since European politicians are not even interested in people who have no votes.

But the Russian revolution was the death knell of Imperialism, and when the Lascars who man our eastern-going ships and the dockers who load the Asiatic ports learn that the dock labourer of London demands £5 a week it is not certain that they also will insist upon a "living wage" based not upon work done, but upon their merits and rights as human beings; and it is not equally certain that Asiatic and African workers of every kind will follow suit.

Socialism is the cult of the underdog, and the underdog of all is the Asiatic or African sweating for a few pence a day in order that the British wage-earners, among others, may get their tea, cocoa, coffee, sugar, rice and a hundred other things at the lowest possible price. Bolshevism, because it is extremely logical and logically extreme, has abolished the colour bar, and having done this, it will conquer the Eastern Hemisphere, unless we oppose to it, not the broken remnants of Imperialism—a system for ever shattered by the fall of three European empires—but the doctrine of Individualism or Laissez faire, under which every man would cease all claim to be his brother's keeper, and become very much his own. Individualism would do more to promote "true religion and virtue" than all the other "isms" in the world, for while it would tolerate the despotism of priests as little as the tyranny of princes, professors, or prime ministers, it would teach the responsibility of every man to God and his neighbour. The theory that every man is his neighbour's keeper, is opposed both to scripture and reason, and is responsible for innumerable brutalities, from the days when Torquemada burnt men's living bodies in order to save their souls to these modern times, when Bolshevist Trade Unionists proclaim the Devil's doctrine that minorities must suffer.

Individualism accepts to its fullest extent the doctrine of "la carrière ouverte aux talents" and, caring little for racial peculiarities or for pedigrees, is as ready to welcome a Japanese as in the case of a Chinese or a Canadian as a convict. It is the fashion to confuse Individualism with Anarchy, which is absurd, since Individualism proclaims the right of every man to live his own life in his own way only so long as in so doing he does not infringe on the equal rights of his neighbours. Not one man in a thousand can be a "solitary" of the roguish elephant type, however much he may desire it. Man is born into a crowd, he lives in a crowd, and he dies out of a crowd, and therefore his actions are always impinging upon those of his fellows, and theirs on his, and to prevent this impingement from becoming an infringement is the function of Law. No sane individualist can claim to be above the Law without claiming the same privilege for each of his fellows, and thereby causing the universal destruction of personal freedom, and the right of private property—things which it is of the essence of Individualism to preserve so long as they

THE QUEEN AND A CHILD.

A pretty incident took place at the visit of the Queen and Princess Mary to the reception and meeting of the Queen Mary's Needlework Guild. The Royal visitors arrived at the private door in Walbrook, and before going up to the Egyptian Hall remained conversing in the entrance hall with the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress, who had waited there to receive them. As the Queen stood facing the door she noticed a little girl—Evelyn Meek, aged four years, the daughter of one of the Lord Mayor's mounted sergeants—peer round the pillar at the side. Her Majesty at once called the little one in, kissed her, and, with the help of Princess Mary, made her feel thoroughly at home. The Queen sent for a dish of cakes, and handed some to the child, who at once started eating them as her Majesty and the Princess went upstairs, waving their hands to the child and her mother.

TYPHOON WARNING.

REAL TYPHOON MAY DEVELOP.

The American Consulate General received the following message from Manila at 9 a.m. to-day:—Low pressure area extending from China Sea to the Pacific across northern Luzon, and the Balintan Channel. A real typhoon may develop later.

are used reasonably, "utere, non abutere," being the watchword of the Individualist.

Much of this I have, I fear, already inflicted on your readers, but, at home, the self-evidence of Conservatism and the readiness of Liberalism to surrender its key-dogma of Liberty for a mess of political potage and abroad, the conquest of Eastern Europe and Northern Asia by Bolshevism make it necessary to consider whether there is any definite theory of politics that we can oppose to the British Socialism, which tends every day to assimilate itself more and more to the Russian model? The Socialists have ideals which are in the main absurd but, all the same, these ideals give to their votaries inspiration and enthusiasm, while Messrs. George, Law, Balfour and Asquith can only offer, as an alternative, measures which seek to combine the antagonistic and mutually destructive principle of Individualism and Collectivism. As a friend of mine used to say, "You cannot fight Socialism by bits of itself," and the Penny-number Socialists of the coalition have no chance when up against the Whole-hogger Socialism of Messrs. Smillie and Tillet.

If we are not going to fight Socialism seriously, the sooner we recognise and proclaim the fact the better, for a policy of pin-pricks only tends to drive Socialism into extremes—that is to say, into Bolshevism. On the other hand, if we determine to fight seriously, the present is the time for doing so, since the Bolshevists make no secret of their intention to convert Eastern and Southern Asia to their creed. Now the first act of a Bolshevist China and Japan would be to demand freedom of immigration to the wastes and deserts of tropical Australia, and the Australian democracy is beginning to understand that, although Imperial Japan can restrain its Nationalists, a Bolshevist Japan would encourage their ambitions, since Communism has no use for the national selfishness which claims a whole vast continent for the benefit of five millions of people. In this connection we may fear that the Japanese, who, like the Germans, possess a vast fund of laborious sagacity, but not a spark of genius, having waited till Bolshevism is at their gates, will find it impossible to withstand its entrance.

MARCH TO SELF GOVERNMENT.

BAGDAD, June 23.

It is officially stated that the Imperial Parliament anticipates the British mandate for Mesopotamia will only give them responsibility for the maintenance of internal peace and external security. It will require them to formulate an organic law framed in consultation with the people of Mesopotamia with due regard to the rights, wishes and interests of all communities. The mandate will contain provisions to facilitate the development of Mesopotamia as a self-governing state until it can stand by itself when the mandate will end. Sir P. Coe, who will be entrusted with the inception of the task will be authorized to call into being as provisional bodies a Council of State, under an Arab president and a General Elective Assembly, freely elected by the population of Mesopotamia.

U.S. DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

LONDON, June 25.

The Times correspondent in Chicago states that the democratic situation is confused. The convention will be divided into camps, namely the large body of Federal office-holders favouring the Covenant and the Treaty, a good number of prohibitionist, and the Western Radical and Eastern contingent, led by bosses opposing prohibition; and the League of Nations. Other smaller questions include Ireland and the industrial policy, while there may be a row over Japanese exclusion. The favourite at present is Governor Cox, of Ohio, who it is thought, might carry Ohio against Harding. Mr. Davis, Ambassador to London, Mr. Mcadoo, Illinois, the Vice-President, Marshall, Palmer, Champ, Clark and Bryan follow in the order named.

"CURLEW" ARRIVES.

LIGHT CRUISER FOR CHINA STATION.

A salute was fired by the light cruiser "Curlew" which arrived in the harbour this morning to join the China Station. It is understood that the "Curlew" will go into dry dock in the ordinary course.

The light cruiser "Curlew" was commissioned on April 27 at Rosyth, when she had been in charge of a care and maintenance party since June, 1919, by Captain W. M. James, C.B., and a Devonport crew for service on the China Station. Captain James was recently relieved as Deputy Director of Naval Intelligence by Captain Geoffrey Hopwood, C.B.E.

The "Curlew" is one of five vessels of the "Ceres" type, ordered in March, 1916, and she was completed by Messrs. Vickers in December, 1917. With her arrival in China there will be four light cruisers of the "C" type on the station.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A telegram from the Yokohama agency of the C. M. S. Co., Ltd., advised that the s.s. "Nile" sailed from that port homeward on Sunday afternoon, June 27.

Mr. W. E. Kirby, assistant secretary to the China Coast Officers' Guild, is down from Shanghai, and expects to stay with us about a month. Some of the Chinese shipowners are trying to dodge the award of the recent arbitrators.

It is understood that the practice of firing a gun at the Signal Station when steamers bringing Home mails are sighted is to be resumed. The signalling of ships approaching port, a service that was discontinued during the war, has been resumed.

Staying at the Hongkong Hotel is Mr. Gilbert I. Robinson, Shanghai agent for the Consolidated Steel Corporation of New York, which is the sole exporter of the products of eleven American steel companies. Mr. Robinson leaves Hongkong at the end of the week.

As the result of a quarrel at No. 16 First Street, a Chinese was removed to the Government Civil Hospital—suffering from injuries to his head, caused, it is alleged, through being thrown down the stairs. His injuries are slight.

A small fire broke out at No. 6 Hollywood Road last night, but was put out without any difficulty by the Fire Brigade. The outbreak is said to have been caused by the upsetting of a kerosene oil lamp which exploded. No damage was done to property.

Convicted by Mr. R. O. Hutchison of having had unlawful possession of 50 tins of prepared non-Government opium, which was found, tied round her waist when she was searched in Wellington Street yesterday, a Chinese woman was this morning fined $2,500 or, in default, four months' imprisonment with hard labour.

On Saturday night at the Club Lusitano, Mr. Constantino da Silva gave his third musical and operatic performance before a large audience. Mr. da Silva's orchestra was highly appreciated. The proceedings of the performance will be devoted to the educational fund of the Portuguese School in Hongkong. Travellers to Macao by the s.s. "San An" yesterday were entertained on the voyage by Mr. da Silva's orchestra.

A Chinese was yesterday seen wandering about the streets in Chinatown with a pair of rusty handcuffs fastened to his ankles. Excitement ran high, and soon the rumour went round that a convict was at large. A large crowd gathered. A detective who was attracted to the spot, removed the cause of the excitement to the Police Station. The Chinese was unable to explain how the handcuffs came to be on his ankles. He is believed by the Police to be insane, and was placed under observation.

Inspector Purden this morning changed a Chinese before Mr. R. O. Hutchison with the theft of a quantity of flowers from No. 40. The Peak. The accused said that he was a servant employed at No. 159, The Peak. Yesterday his master gave a party and he went to the garden of No. 40, and asked him for some flowers with which to decorate the table. The flower the Police found in his possession was not stolen. It was given him by the gardener of No. 40. An Indian constable said he saw the accused on the Peak yesterday carrying two baskets. When the accused saw him, he ran away but witness gave chase and caught him. In the baskets were found a quantity of flowers. The gardener of No. 40 admitted that he gave the defendant some of the flowers but not all. His Worship said he thought it was a common practice amongst gardeners and he could not take a serious view of the case. He imposed a fine of $5 on both the defendant and the gardener of No. 40.

Before Mr. N. L. Smith at the Magistracy this morning, a Chinese youth was charged with having obtained $17.20 worth of goods from the Wing On Company by false pretences. He admitted the charge. Detective Sergeant Dorling said the defendant went to the store on June 24, and ordered four singlets which he said were to be put down to the account of a Chinese gentleman from whom employ he had recently been dismissed. Believing him to be still in the gentleman's employ, the store people allowed him to take the singlets away. He took them straight to a pawnshop and pledged them. A couple of days later, he again called at the store and ordered more singlets. Feeling suspicious, the store people detained him and telephoned for the Police. Witness went down to the store and as the result of his questioning, the defendant took him to a pawnshop where the singlets were recovered. The defendant is a Chinese of about 25 years of age, and was last seen at the pawnshop where the singlets were recovered. He is now being sought by the Police.

The corpse of a junk fish was removed to the mortuary yesterday. Death was due to drowning. It appears that in attempting to jump from one junk to another, the deceased missed his footing and fell between the two vessels. He sank immediately and was not seen again, and all attempts to find him failed, until his body was picked up at Shaukiwan later in the day, some distance away from the junk.

MISAPPROPRIATION.

TWO CHINESE CONVICTED.

At the Magistracy on Saturday, before Mr. N. L. Smith, two Chinese employees of the Wing On Co., were charged at the instance of Detective Sub-Inspector Wills with the misappropriation of $1, and the theft of a quantity of goods, the property of the Company, valued at $21 and $41.50 respectively. Both defendants pleaded "not guilty."

Inspector Wills said that on June 21, a European went to the store and bought a leather belt for $1.25. Being in a hurry, he paid for the belt and went away without waiting for the receipt. The first defendant, it was alleged, taking advantage of this, made out a bill for 25 cents and paid the money in at the counter. On his way back, he was noticed by the manager of the sales department to put a $1 bill in his pocket. He was at once detained and questioned, and as he was unable to give a satisfactory explanation, the Police were called. The Inspector, who went down to the store in answer to the telephone message, said that two defendants were handed over to him and charged with misappropriating $1 the property of the Company.

The Magistrate enquired how the second defendant became involved in the matter, and was informed that the store people alleged that while the first defendant was being examined, the second defendant was seen to be making out a bill relating to the $1, undoubtedly with the intention of paying the money in and removing suspicion from his confederate.

Continuing the Inspector said he searched the defendants' belongings in the employees' quarters, and discovered the articles which formed the subject of the second charge against him. He had been informed by the store people, said the Inspector, that there had been a conspiracy among the junior employees to defraud the firm. Many thefts of articles had been discovered recently, but they had been unable to find the thieves until now. While it could not be proved that the defendants were responsible for all the loss, the stock being so big that it was impossible at times to account for all, there was no doubt that the articles (produced) were the property of the Company, as they bore the Company's mark. It was not possible for the defendants to have bought all the articles found in their possession as they were only drawing salaries of $3 a month each, all found, including sleeping quarters.

After evidence had been heard, the Magistrate passed sentence of two weeks' imprisonment with hard labour each.

DANGERS OF THE TOOTHBRUSH.

Speaking at Manchester at the resumed Conference on the Prevention of Diseases of the Teeth, Mr. F. M. Holborn, a member of the Society of London Dentists, said that toothbrushing as usually practised tended to inflame and cause absorption of the gums around and between the teeth. Soluble preparations, such as salt or soap, were the safer cleansers, because they could be easily washed away from the region of the gums. When brushing was resorted to, the always-advised use of anything but a brush should always be done from the gum towards the tooth, to avoid driving particles beneath the gum. It was, however, as unpractical to brush the mouth as to brush the stomach. Nature evidently intended to keep the mouth clean by the mastication of rough, fibrous foods, and this was really the only safe way.

PEKING CABINET CRISIS.

PEKING, June 27.

Chang Tso-lin this morning had an audience with the President, who expressed appreciation of the services rendered by the latter in connection with the political situation, and expressed the hope that Chang Tso-lin will not depart before Chin Yun-peng has been induced to resume the Premiership.

It is understood that Anfu members of the Cabinet, the Ministers of Communications, Finance, and Justice will resign immediately, and that their resignations will be accepted, the Vice-Ministers acting until the Cabinet is re-organised. Chow Tso-chi is mentioned for the Finance portfolio.

THEATRE ROYAL.

HUMPHREY BISHOP COMPANY.

Saturday night was a very successful one for the Humphrey Bishop Company. They had a full house and kept it amused and delighted from the start until the curtain finally dropped. They provided an excellent programme and had the satisfaction of presenting it to an audience which appreciated every item to such an extent that encores were the order throughout. The operatic portion of the programme consisted of excerpts from Carmen. They were well chosen and capably rendered. The mixing of compositions from operas into a programme of a lighter nature is an excellent feature. Each part seems to make the other but the more enjoyable. The jazz-drummer was very much in evidence and received a unanimous call for more at the conclusion of his "stunt." With regard to those on the stage it is sufficient to say that they were at their best. There is a complete change of programme to-morrow.

FIRE ON S.S. "KIYO MARU."

OIL TANK EXPLODES.

VESSEL BADLY DAMAGED.

A report from Tokyo states that a fire started in the engine room of the "Kiyo Maru" shortly after she had left Yokohama. The fire spread to the oil tank, which exploded, and the vessel was left in a serious plight. The sea was running high and only one life-boat remained undamaged.

There were eighty-three passengers on board. Amongst the seventeen First and Second Cabin passengers was Mr. H. Charles Bergson, the well-known English banker. The "Kiyo Maru," which passed the damaged steamer, sent a wireless report to the Yokohama harbour authorities, who dispatched several rescue boats to the scene. The American ship, "West Jester," stood by and rendered invaluable assistance.

The women and children were put into the life-boat and many of the other passengers leaped into the sea and were picked up. There was no loss of life. The passengers were brought back to Yokohama. A large part of the cargo was destroyed but 400 tons of Chilean nitrate were saved.

The vessel is very badly damaged and it is feared that she may sink. A storm should occur before she can be towed into port. The officers of the "Kiyo Maru" warmly praise the "West Jester" for the assistance which she gave in spite of all dangers.
